HERRICK NOT COMING HERE; COLE SPEAKS

Republican Rally In Coshocton County Will Be Sizzler Anyway

EX-CONGRESSMAN HAS PLACE ON PROGRAM

Other Announced Features Planned for Rally Will Also Take Place

Myron T. Herrick will not speak at the Sixth Street Theatre this afternoon but in his stead Ralph D. Cole, Findlay attorney and former congressman, will speak. Wade E. Ellis will be here as previously announced.

This information was received at the Republican headquarters over the wire last night. Herrick was obliged to cancel the meeting at Coshocton and those at four other cities for some reason not given in the telegram last night.

Cole is noted as a speaker and has been active in the Republican campaign. Those who have heard both men, say that Cole is a more effective speaker than Herrick. Cole was scheduled to speak at McConnelsville last night.

Coshocton "Hi" Alumni May Go On A Jolly Trip

A. O. Ellis, traveling passenger agent for the W. & L. E. railroad is in Coshocton to meet the alumni of the High school of the last five years to discuss plans for a 'reunion' class trip to be taken next spring. The trip is to be independent of the Senior's class trip. Mr. Ellis requests any one that has gone on any of the five previous trips, to meet at the Central school building in room 17 at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

A trip of this kind has been considered for the past two years and the idea is becoming popular and some ex-pupils are enthusiastic about it. Just when and where the trip will be made has not been set, and are to be taken up at the meeting tonight. School authorities have expressed themselves as much in favor of the trip.

Many of the alumni have stated that a trip of this nature loses none of its attraction and adds greatly to its fascination, as many pleasant memories will be recalled. Mr. Ellis thinks nearly a hundred will take the trip as practically all he has interviewed were eager and are already making plans for the journey.

Grass On Fire Along Track

Passengers on the noon Wheeling and Lake Erie train were alarmed Wednesday when they passed thru a dense cloud of smoke at the West Lafayette station and saw a score of men seemingly fighting flames which appeared to be spreading in the dry grass of the adjacent bottom. It was reported that the fire was started by sparks from a Wheeling and Lake Erie engine and was threatening to become a serious forest fire.

Investigation last night disclosed that section men were burning off the right-of-way and the fire had gained such headway that to the passengers it appeared to be beyond control.

G. Gladfelter Dies At Age, 54

News of the death of George Gladfelter, aged 54, who died Tuesday at his home in New Philadelphia, was received by relatives and friends in Coshocton Wednesday. Death was due to heart trouble. Mrs. Jane Denzer, of South Ninth street, is a sister-in-law, and, with her daughter, Miss Ethyle Denzer, will attend the funeral, which will be held Friday from the late home. Other Coshocton relatives will also attend.

BULLDOG CHEWS UP PRESIDENT WILSON'S LETTER TO LANDIS

CHICAGO, NOV. 1.—If President Wilson still wants United States Judge Kenesaw M. Landis here to know what a letter written him from the White House contained he will comply with the judge's request and send a copy. For Teddy, the judge's bull dog, ate the original before the judge had a chance to read it.

Incidentally Teddy is suffering exceedingly today. He had mouthed an old golf ball he was playing with and it exploded, its acid core setting him afire internally. It was while he was wrecking the judge's study in his mad flight about the room Teddy seized the letter which had just arrived and tore it to shreds.

BUFFALO, N. Y., NOV. 1.—After a trip across the state of New York, today, everywhere being greeted by cheering thousands of people, President Woodrow Wilson delivered his most virile and vindictive campaign speech here tonight. At times the people rose en masse and cheered the president for several minutes at a time.

"Repeated attacks on the president of the United States," said he, in facing his audiences here, "have forced the president to take cognizance of them on the stump."

One of the instances referred to by the president was the spectacle presented at Brooklyn last Saturday night, when members of the commission rep-

Note In Bottle Says Sick Man Took Own Life

William Touvell, of Wills Creek, and some companions are wondering if Spellacy Harvey is or was a real man and whether Harvey thot he was playing a practical joke on the public or bidding the world a sad adieu when he wrote a note stating he was going to commit suicide, crammed the note in a bottle, corked it tight and set the bottle adrift on the tawny waters of the Muskingum river.

Touvell and his friends no doubt had these thots Sunday, October 29, when he picked up a bottle that had washed ashore on the river bank near the Tyndall bridge, opened the bottle and pulled from it a faded and worn sheet of paper upon which was written this tragic message:

"June 12-1916."

"To the finder of this bottle I committed suicide at the Rail Road Bridge at Tyndall. My name is Spellacy Harvey my home I have none bad health is the cause of me leaving this Country I used to Rail Road on The Pennsylvania road and that is enough said I think

Good bye old World and Friends"

"Spellacy"

The note is copied as written. The handwriting is clear and well formed, but as will be noticed capitalization and punctuation are not correct.

STAR CHAMBER CONFAB INDICATES GAS FIGHT STAYS IN THE COURTS

Newspaper Reporters Are Refused Look-in At Meeting and Important Information and Discussions In That Company, Supposedly About 30-Cent Gas and 15-Cent Gas May Remain A Deep Mystery To Poor Tom, Dick, Harry And The Public.

Persons Who Came Away From Conference Appeared to Be Suffering Acute Attacks of Lockjaw

Indications were last night that council would stand pat and refuse to withdraw the gas litigation pending in court. Councilmen however, would not make such a statement. After the close of the secret conference attempts were made to get a statement from some of the councilmen present and from Attorney W. S. Merrell, who was asked what general feeling prevailed in regard to the dropping of present litigation.

Mr. Merrell replied that there did not appear to be much change from the stand taken in council Monday, October 23, at least no marked division was noted beyond that evidenced at that time.

Mr. Merrell was then asked if the councilmen were persuaded that under the present rates, the gas company was making a fair profit. He replied: "They ought to be for evidence was produced to warrant such a conclusion."

Councilman Heinke was reached by phone but said he was not in a position to make any statement and that "I am not at liberty to do so."

Councilman Hamilton Browning declared he would make "no statement for publication at this time."

Far reaching are the effects of the Coshocton Gas Company's fight to secure the city' withdrawal of the injunction which was imposed on the gas company by the court of appeals and which alone prevents the company from charging Coshocton citizens 30 cents per thou and cubic feet or twice what it will charge the Coshocton Glass Company and the Pope-Gosser China Company.

These effects were much in evidence last night as the "star chamber" session of some of the council members and Attorneys W. S. Merrell and Ely, representing the city, and Jay Hope Sutor, of Zanesville, expert accountant employed by the city to review the books of the gas company with a view to collecting data to aid in the city's fight to retain the present gas rate of 28 cents per thousand feet less a discount of 3 cents per thousand feet for prompt payment.

Those members of council present were E. W. Heinke, Howard Norris, Charles E. Cronin, Hamilton Browning, Neil McKinley and James McDonald. President C. H. Maurer and C. O. McGinnis were absent.

Councilman McDonald came in late, and only after he had been called by [illegible] the other five [illegible] were awaiting his [illegible]. It has been rumored that McDonald [illegible] take a stand be[illegible] day. [illegible] sheriff [illegible] gas question will involve a number of votes.

President Maurer has frequently been [illegible] accused of "dessing," it is said. He evidently preferred to give no one an opportunity to declare that he had a hand in the secret conference either for or against the interests of the small consumers.

Councilman McGinnis, it is said, went to Columbus Wednesday. As he was expected to return about six o'clock last night, he evidently missed his train for he was absent from the meeting at eight o'clock.

A representative of The Tribune was present at Attorney Merrell's office

Woman Laid Up By Bad Sprain

Mrs. Minnie Mayhew, it was said last night, is confined to the home of a sister, Mrs. Barcroft, of East Vine street, as the result of injuries sustained during an altercation at the L. D. Mayhew home on East Walnut street Sunday evening about 9 o'clock.

Dr. J. D. Lower, the attending physician stated last night, that Mrs. Mayhew was suffering from a bad sprain of the back which he had been told was received when her husband, James Mayhew, pushed her backwards over a banister. Dr. Lower was uncertain last night whether the injury would prove permanent, he said.

Where is the Coshocton, Otsego and Eastern railroad? Perhaps not one in ten knows that there is within the county limits today a railroad bearing that name and carrying passengers and freight almost daily.

The Coshocton, Otsego and Eastern railroad is the track and equipment used to haul coal from the Warwick mines. It has an engine and a right-of-way from the Wheeling and Lake Erie road east to the Warwick mine. Many of the miners are hauled to and from work on the Coshocton, Otsego and Eastern.

H. M. Johnson, of near Pleasantville, who had undergone an operation at the City hospital, is in a serious condition. Late last night his condition still favorably considered.

Coshocton Doctors Not Satisfied With District

An attempt will be made by local physicians and surgeons to secure a redistricting and change in the present arrangement whereby Coshocton county is included with Tuscarawas, Jefferson, Harrison and Belmont counties in the state districting plan.

The local members of the Association desire to be districted with a more central district made up of Muskingum, Guernsey, Fairfield and Licking counties.

The members of the Coshocton County Medical Association have long favored such a plan and their minds were more intent on the change upon their return last night from Zanesville, where they had attended a session of the Muskingum Academy of Medicine.

Those in attendance from Coshocton county were Drs. Edmund Cone, J. D. Lower, L. C. McCurdy, W. H. Keenan and F. M. Marshall, all of whom made the trip in Dr. Marshall's auto, and E. E. Marquand, of Conesville, John Dillon and J. W. Snider, of New Castle, and R. F. Cureton, of Walhonding.

Conservative Investment

Conservative investment implies first—the consistent observance of known principles of selection—and second, a strict routine of careful watching afterwards to make sure that the property values and earning power behind the security are maintained.

Over a long period of years, 7% cumulative preferred stocks purchased in harmony with these principles, return a regular and profitable income and at the same time, assist to build up the productive resources of the community.

Fundamentally there is a great difference between conservative investment and dangerous speculation, and although the outward appearance is sometimes much the same, a little study soon reveals this difference.

We have just completed an interesting examination of this subject and will be glad to mail you a copy of our report without expense.

Good Farm Homes.

It is not necessary to go to the city to get a modern home. A run home can be built for three or four thousand dollars that would cost nearly twice as much in the city. A lighting and heating system can be installed as cheaply in the country and kept up at a much smaller expense than similar conveniences can be kept in the city home.

Virginia Bars Shut By Law; Colonels "Dry"

RICHMOND, VA., NOV. 1.—Virginia, the eighteenth state to ban the sale of intoxicating beverages, closed all saloons last midnight, completing a dry area in the south reaching from Washington to Jacksonville to the east and from Washington to New Orleans to the west.

Also a large part of the Old Dominion previously had been voted dry in local option elections, the new state law closed more than 800 saloons, mostly in Richmond, Norfolk, Newport News, Lynchburg, Petersburg, Roanoke and Bristol.

The law is one of the most drastic ever passed by a state legislature. No beverage except cider can be sold that shows a trace of alcohol, and possession of more than one gallon of whisky, one gallon of wine, three gallons of beer would be regarded as prima facie evidence of intent to violate the law. This provision probably will receive an early test in court, as vast quantities of liquor have been stored in private homes.

Along with the prohibition measure and to insure its enforcement, the legislature passed a bill which provided that oustor proceedings may be brot against state or municipal authorities who show a laxity in putting it, or any other measure, into effect. In addition a commissioner was provided to see that the law was observed.

Many saloons closed during the last few days because their stocks were exhausted. Those which remain will go out of business to the chimes of ringing church bells and the shouting and singing of enthusiastic anti-liquor workers, who will hold jollification meetings and watch parties in almost every part of the state.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE!

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the vegetable substitute for calomel—there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and violent.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "a dull, drowsy feeling," a bad breath, a dull, heavy feeling, constipation, a torpid liver, bad digestion or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Army Man Told To Take Jewish Jabs Out Book

ASBURY PARK, N. J., NOV. 1.—Captain Elroy Eltinge, Fifteenth United States cavalry, has been ordered by the war department to expunge from his book, "Psychology of War," anti-Semitic references, in which he asserts the Jew does not have any of the qualities of a good soldier.

President Wilson has recently received many complaints about the book from friends of the Jewish race, all of which were referred to the war department. Today Secretary Tumulty made public the following letter from William M. Ingraham, acting secretary of war:

"I beg leave to inform you that the policy of the department is uniformly to discourage in the army anything calculated to reflect in any manner on men of any particular race or creed, and not to tolerate anything that would savor of race discrimination. The quotations from Captain Eltinge's book are regarded as highly objectionable by the war department. Captain Eltinge will, therefore, be directed to go over the book carefully and to expunge therefrom all objectionable portions.

"The Jewish race undoubtedly has furnished many able officers and many brave soldiers to all the armies of the world, and the department is satisfied that many such men are now in our own army."

Captain Eltinge's book is quoted in the correspondence as containing the following statement under the heading, "Psychlogy of Races":

"The soldiers's lot is hard physical work. This the Jew despises. He does not have any of the qualities of a good soldier. Nevertheless, he is highly religious and very susceptible to the moral habits of his race. He has tenacity of purpose and under pressure can patiently endure much.

"In a cause, which appealed to his peculair kind of mind and led by officers who knew how to get the best out of him, he might do surprisingly well as a soldier, but unless we can touch the latent mainsprings of character that twenty-five hundred years ago made him a soldier to be respected we will find him of little account."

WILSON HIT

resenting the Mexican government in the negotiations now pending with this country, were invited to attend the meeting at which Roosevelt provided the unprecedented entertainment to foreigners of publicly lashing the president in their presence. Another instance is the charges made from the stump by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge with reference to the diplomatic correspondence between this country and Germany.

Judging by the flood of telegrams that is pouring into Democratic national headquarters from voters of all party faiths, voicing indignant protest against such partisan attacks on the president, this latest line of attack adopted by the Republican speakers is resulting in no uncertain degree upon the Hughes candidacy.

Advocates Fair Play

A conspicuous example of the kind of protests that are being received is that of Ellis Perry, professor of English at Harvard university. Professor Perry is the former editor of the Atlantic Monthly and voted for McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft. His communication to the Democratic national headquarters includes the following sentiments:

"I like fair play. Having known Woodrow Wilson nearly 25 years as a high-minded gentleman of absolute integrity, of stubborn Scotch-Irish courage and of passionate devotion to his country, I resent the wilful misrepresentation and indignant disapparagement which characterizes the campaign against him.

"I am tired of seeing a rare patience construed as 'weakness,' a swift and statesmanlike recognition of changing facts cartooned as 'vacillation' and 'insincerity.'

Mistakes Inevitable

"I approve the main purpose and accomplishment of the president's foreign policy as regards both Mexico and Europe. The conditions in each case were of extraordinary and unprecedented difficulty. Some mistakes in detail were inevitable. The president has learned much in the past three years and at any rate he need not fear the criticism of men who, during the past three years, have learned nothing."

Yell For Hughes, Bet On Wilson

COLUMBUS, O., NOV. 1.—Wednesday was pay-day for state employes, and as a result there were many trying to place wagers on the result of the election next Tuesday. And the very strange part of it was the fact that practically all of them anxious to double their salaries, were trying to bet on Wilson and Cox carrying the state.

The girls employed in one state department gathered together about $100 that they were anxious to wager on President Wilson carrying the state, and an equal amount that Cox would be elected governor. Many of these employes are Republicans, and when questioned why they were willing to wager their money on the Democrats winning, one of them replied: "We are working for Republicans, but we bet for ourselves, and figuring that we won't have our jobs much longer, want to make as much money as we can."

It is estimated that as much as $100 of money paid out to Republican state employes will be bet on Wilson and Cox winning, if takers can be secured.

State Capital Short On Coal

COLUMBUS, O., NOV. 1.—With coal at the highest price ever known, and no immediate relief in the car shortage in sight, Columbus factories, parochiales, and Columbus homes, where the winter's supply of coal has not been laid in, are threatened with a famine of fuel, which may cause unemployment and, in case of severe weather, real suffering.

With the city's large and main plants has but two days' supply of coal and there is no immediate danger of a shutdown. Not only could coal be secured from many of the railroads which are dependent upon the city for water and light, but Superintendent Harry O'Shaughnessy says he is ready to put out with motor trucks and haul coal of cars, before he will see either of the plants close down.

Many Resort To Gas.

The garbage disposal plant, which was shut down Tuesday by reason of coal scarcity, will be started again Thursday.

The two places in which the shortage will be felt most severely are factories and homes in which there is yet no coal supply. Most of the factories of Columbus fall back on gas and have done so, in view of the high price asked for coal.

Most Columbus factories have some coal on hand, it is reported, and for the next few days, at least, it is said none will stop work because of lack of fuel. Columbus is not in as serious a plight as Cleveland, which reports a receipt of only 50 cars of coal Tuesday, against 750 cars which should have been received.

State Probe Is On.

Meanwhile the state, Wednesday, thru its public utilities commission, was continuing the probe to learn the cause for car shortage which is indirectly responsible for the high price of coal. By Thursday, the commission has ordered every road in the state must account for all its cars, in the belief that such action would throw light on the cause for the shortage. Coal and railroad men, however, Wednesday said they did not think the probe would develop much that would help.

BE PRETTY TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Look young! Nobody can tell if you use Grandmother's simple recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darken your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this thru your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get mad and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that irritate the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning or a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

CANDIDATE OF THE PEOPLE IS JUDGE E. L. PORTERFIELD

"A SPLENDID, PATRIOTIC AMERICAN," Says Gov. Willis

JUDGE E. L. PORTERFIELD

Candidate for Congressman in Seventeenth District.

[illegible] in the six counties of the [illegible] congressional district [illegible] A. Ashbrook [illegible] a hearing here, [illegible] to [illegible] St. The [illegible] opportunity on [illegible] which [illegible] most satisfactory to the people [illegible] which will reflect credit upon the district they represent.

Judge E. L. Porterfield, of Delaware, [illegible] the Republican nominee for congressman in the Seventeenth district, to succeed William A. Ashbrook, is as Governor Willis says of him, "one of the common people—a splendid, patriotic American." He is described as the type popularly known as a self-made man and is a splendid public speaker, the early training of [illegible] on which he was reared.

[illegible] was born near [illegible] and his boyhood contained the privations and the hard work of the farm. After [illegible] he began to teach school and after learning in country schools for six years he taught in [illegible] Ashland, Ohio, schools for seven years, having in the meantime took up the study of law. He also, while teaching, found time for the study of science branches as made it possible for him to pass an examination and secure a life teachers' certificate from the state. It was before being admitted to the practice of law that Judge Porterfield, as he is known among his acquaintances, ran for the Republican nomination as probate judge of Delaware county and defeated the seven attorneys who opposed him for the nomination. He served as probate judge for two terms of three years each, his second election having been without Democratic opposition.

Of his home life it may be said that Judge Porterfield is married and has two daughters. He is a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and is vice president of the men's Bible class of the Asbury M. E. church in Delaware. His fraternal affiliations are with the Elks and the Knights of Pythias lodges.

[illegible] Judge Porterfield is a man by nature and training and [illegible] qualified for the office [illegible] which he aspires. He has always been a close student of political affairs and has taken an active part in local and state politics, his unbiased judgment and keen political insight making him a natural leader and consultant. Physically capable of great endurance and possessed of that rare quality of combined mental application, he has been successful in every undertaking, and his versatility and activity entitle him to a diploma from the School of Experience. Clean in character, of pleasing personality, conscientious, a close student of affairs, with a mind legally analytical, he makes an ideal candidate of the people for membership in the lower house of congress. Those who have known him long, and have been closely associated with him, appreciate thoroly his unusual qualifications. We, his friends and fellow citizens, cheerfully and confidently recommend him to the voters of the district as worthy of their support, knowing that the interests of the district and the country generally will be faithfully and fearlessly cared for by him."

ATTENTION!

We are expecting a car of White Lily Flour here next week at which time all grocers' orders will be filled.

We also expect to fill all farmers' exchange orders as soon as the flour comes in. We will either give flour in full or will pay in cash at the basis of the price of wheat on the day it was deposited in the mill. Owing to the fire it will be necessary that holders of orders must take the entire amount of flour due them as we have no storage room to care for the goods.

More Power Asked At U.

COLUMBUS, O., NOV. 1.—An appropriation for $200,000 to build another power house for the Ohio State university will not be asked of the state legislature thru the state budget commission by the university board of trustees. The addition of another power house is declared to be necessary because of the increased load put upon the power house as the result of the construction of several new buildings on the campus.

Last year before the completion of the new shop building, the home economics building and the homeopathic hospital, the power plant carried a daily overload of 75 per cent. The present plant has a normal capacity of 1850 horsepower. According to the preliminary plans the proposed power house will be located just west of the coal tipple in the rear of university hall.

Girl Gives Up Stage For Rich Old Ohioan, Now Wants His Money

SPRINGFIELD, OHIO, NOV. 1.—In the [illegible] two suits that will be tried in Clark [illegible] there will be told a story of [illegible] aged man who here induced a young actress to give up a stage career [illegible] travel with him as his secretary [illegible] companion, and later he [illegible] to adopt her as his daughter [illegible] showed her love [illegible] and sought [illegible] marriage, to which she did not consent, and now [illegible] intended to remember her [illegible] only in his will, he died before this could be done.

The suits will be tried thru Attorneys Cump and Shoup on Clark [illegible] and Brewster and Parries of New York, against the estate of the late John W. Bookwalter of Springfield who died September 26, 1913, in San Remo, Italy, leaving $3,000,000 of property. The plaintiffs are Katherine M. Johnston, New York City, and her sister, Belle Johnston, widow of Paul A. Johnston, formerly a well known actor.

Asks $100,000 Recompense

Katherine Johnston asks for $100,000 for services she rendered during the 21 years she traveled with and served as secretary of Bookwalter, and she also sues for nearly $12,000 upon two notes she claims Bookwalter gave her. Belle S. Johnston sues for $50,000 for services she rendered to Bookwalter, and also demands $15,000 for services her husband is alleged to have rendered the aged man. She also asks judgment for $12,500 upon two notes [illegible] Bookwalter gave her.

It is alleged in the suits that Bookwalter was past [illegible] when Miss Alice Johnston, a sister of Katherine, [illegible], when Katherine was but 12 years old. The girls were daughters of Mrs. Fanny J. Johnston. In 1896 Bookwalter, it is alleged, persuaded the Johnston family to travel in Europe with him. Mrs. Johnston and Alice did so, but Katherine, being under a stage contract then, did not go to Europe until later. A year later Bookwalter made love to Alice and they became engaged. Alice's health was poor and Bookwalter suggested a trip and he persuaded Katherine to break her theatrical contract, promising to reimburse her for any loss she might suffer.

GIRL MASQUERADER STABBED BY A BOY

PHILADELPHIA, PA., NOV. 1.—Fifteen year-old Jane Bonner, daughter of Neil Bonner, president of the National Retail Liquor Dealers' Association, was seriously stabbed by a boy of her own age while they were in a crowd of masqueraders in Carpenter street.

Jacob Murtha, Kimball street near Twenty fifth, was arrested, charged with the stabbing. He was locked up.

The girl, dressed in fantastic costume, was frolicking with a crowd of other masqueraders, when Murtha appeared in another crowd. An altercation started among the boys of the group, and Murtha drew a knife and it is charged, stabbed the Bonner girl in the abdomen.

She is in a serious condition in the Polyclinic hospital.

"FAIR AND WARMER."

Selwyn & Company will present their newest big success, "Fair and Warmer," whose fame has spread all over the country on the strength of its year-long run of unprecedented prosperity at the Eltinge Theatre, New York, at the Sixth St. Theatre Saturday night, Nov. 4.

Avery Hopwood, author of this farce classic, is also of "Seven Days" and "Nobody's Widow," and started the "long run-fever" on the career it has never since abandoned. So Mr. Hopwood is fairly entitled to his rank as America's first master of farce-writing.

Selwyn & Company, "Fair and Warmer," the wiseacres said "Trust the Selwyns."

"Fair and Warmer" begins in the early evening, stays up all night, and comes to a festive conclusion at noon of the following day, after having disrupted two households, devastated one "nane robin," reassorted four people who then repaired the reassortment, and finally rolled blessings and benedictions upon righteous and upright [illegible] with an impartial hand. Seat sale opens this morning at 9 A. M. at Theatre Box Office.

65 Age Limit Is Man's Plea; Turns On Gas

NEW YORK, NOV. 1.—Because he had passed the age of sixty five and considered himself of no more use in the world, William Ha[illegible], a senior, committed suicide in his home at 816 East 177th street, the Bronx, by inhaling gas. The body was found by his daughter, Miss Margaret, with whom he lived.

The daughter told the police that for a number of year her father was a trunk manufacturer in Pennsylvania, but had given up his business and moved to this city where for the past three years he had devoted his time to inventions applicable to the trunk industry. He had told her on numerous occasions, she said, that when a man passed his sixty fifth year he was of no further use in the world. Two weeks ago he celebrated his sixty fifth birthday anniversary.

When she did not hear him moving around today in a room he had set aside for his workshop, she called to him, and getting no response she called a policeman who forced the door. The room was filled with gas. Hatfield lay dead on the floor.

"Big Fat Fool" Wins Balm Suit

NEW YORK, NOV. 1.—Whitney Lyon, wealthy tooth powder manufacturer, will not have to pay Miss Margaret Connell any damages for alleged breach of promise to marry her. A jury has decided a $100,000 damage action in Lyon's favor.

Miss Connell, a dressmaker, testified that Lyon proposed to her in his apartment and subsequently on a Boston train. She produced a ring, which she said was the token of her engagement, and a love letter signed "Your Lover Ted." Lyon denied that he promised marriage.

Davison Gives Views On Trade

NEW YORK, NOV. 1.—The [illegible] of the Chamber of Commerce [illegible] proper appreciation [illegible] received at the hands of the [illegible] from the [illegible] of a statement issued by Henry P. During Reconstruction Period.

"I am glad to say that [illegible] and France [illegible] desirable [illegible] to continue to sell [illegible] to the states [illegible] desirable [illegible] continue to supply them largely, not only during the war but for the reconstruction period which will follow.

"Many Britons and France have not only carried on the war on the western front, but have at the same time developed their own manufacturing resources in a way which surpasses belief, so that today they find themselves well equipped and in a position to provide not only for themselves, but in a large degree to assist their allies.

"In stating this I do not mean to imply that there are not many things they will require of us, as they did before the war and will after. I do mean that there are very many supplies which they would rather purchase from us than produce at home, reserving the resources required for such production for other purposes to their best advantage. The point is that our position is one of independence compared with that two years ago."

Soundness of Loans.

Of the soundness of the entente loans as investments, Mr. Davidson said it was his unqualified opinion "that the unsecured government bond of Great Britain or France, free from income tax and payable in dollars in the United States, is just as sure to be paid as the unsecured bond of the United States government, no matter how the war terminates."

Mr. Davidson also tells in his statement of his visit to the western battle zone. As a result of it, he says, his confidence in the entente's ultimate victory has increased.

THE WAR'S SUPREME LESSON

We have been told many times during the past year by enthusiasts for this reform or that, just what this war will do. We are told, for instance, by the ardent socialist reformer that the war will usher in immediately the era of Socialism.

We don't believe it. Socialism, like any other forward-looking movement is evolutionary, not revolutionary. We will get it in the way that is best for us, by pieces and in fragments, and not in a lump. Perhaps the worst possible thing that could happen to us would be to have the full Socialist program, if any one knows what that is, thrust on us wholesale.

We are getting Socialism now, only we don't know it. But instead of boxing it like the well boy does a piece of coke, we are getting it like the same boy does when he is sick—in broken doses. And that's the best thing for us.

The American people wanted United States senators elected by popular vote 75 years ago, or at least a thinking minority of them did—and thinking minorities always rule—in the end. Men began talking of the initiative and referendum in this country just after the Civil war. Thirty-five years ago the proposition was up for a postal savings bank, but it apparently died a-borning. It was longer ago than that that the Australian ballot law, almost in identically the same form in which we have it now, was first proposed, but it was laughed down by "practical politicians" as "suitable for women's debating societies."

In each instance the thing that killed all these proposed reforms was ridicule. They were called "Socialistic," which they were, and that settled it. But they are all firmly entrenched in our social and political life today and no one would think of agitating for their abrogation.

There are a dozen other reform measures which are now being weighed in the balance of public opinion. They all, as usual, are denounced as "Socialistic." They are. Yet the silent, thinking minority, the men and women whose opinions finally prevail, are as convinced now as to the validity of these reforms as the mass of men will be ten, twenty, forty years hence.

The more impatient of this silent, thinking minority are clamoring for these reforms NOW, but their wiser brethren know that now is not the time for them. Reforms of this nature always have and, by the very nature of things, always will come at a certain, definite, fixed time—and that time is when a majority of the people have been brot to see that the utilitarian value of the proposed reform outweighs in importance to them the condition which the reform is designed to overthrow.

So, he who thinks that the end of the European war will proclaim an era of Socialism, full-fledged, is staking his judgment against all the past and against human nature, as it is now constituted. That the war is producing a mental attitude on the part of countless thousands in Europe favorable to the propagation of the socialistic propaganda is undoubtedly true.

Others say that the war will bring about the immediate advent of woman's suffrage. For the reasons assigned above we should say that it is beyond the range of the probable that any great advance in votes for women will result directly after the close of the war. But gratitude alone, as well as a number of other definite reasons, will certainly tend to forward materially the day when European women, who have borne their full share of war's burdens, will not only be privileged to vote, but expected to assume their share of the world's civic and social burdens. Asking for other sex is not so much a right as it is a DUTY.

And so, it is not likely that the war, of itself, will bring to pass immediately any of the things that the enthusiasts are hoping and praying it will. But the war will teach the world a lot of new lessons and emphasize a lot of old ones. It will, by the same token, have ten a lot of needed changes that the silent, thinking few have long known must come additionally. It may be, in this way, the war itself will atone for a lot of the misguided humanities it has inflicted on the race.

And if we were asked what we considered the most important of the lessons—new or old—which the war will teach not only Europe, but America as well, we would unhesitatingly say THE LESSON OF CO-OPERATION.

Columbus People Advise Best Way To Treat Cold Troubles

Keep Plenty of Fresh Air in the Bedroom, and Apply a Good Application of Vick's VAPORUB Salve, Covering With a Warm Flannel Cloth.

The Medication Is Absorbed Thru the Skin, and Inhaled as a Vapor.

Some years ago a North Carolina druggist discovered how to combine pine tar with camphor, menthol and other drugs in the form of a salve, so that when the preparation is applied over the chest and throat the medicinal vapors will not only be absorbed into the lungs, but will be released in the form of vapor. These vapors, inhaled with each breath, clear the air passages, and by their stimulating effect on the skin, rapidly break up a cough or cold. By kind permission, we reprint a few extracts from letters from Columbus people:

Mrs. F. E. Harris, 1056 Cable Avenue:

"We have used Vick's VAPORUB Salve ever since you have had it on the market, and we find that it has no equal for old or young in treating croup or cold troubles. It saved our little girl from a very bad attack of pneumonia."

Mrs. C. Clarke, 297 Deshler Avenue:

"We have four children, one a baby, and have used Vick's VAPORUB on all of them with fine results. It is truly wonderful for colds, and we have often used it for burns with excellent results."

Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00.

Save Your Hair!
25 Cent Bottle Stops Dandruff

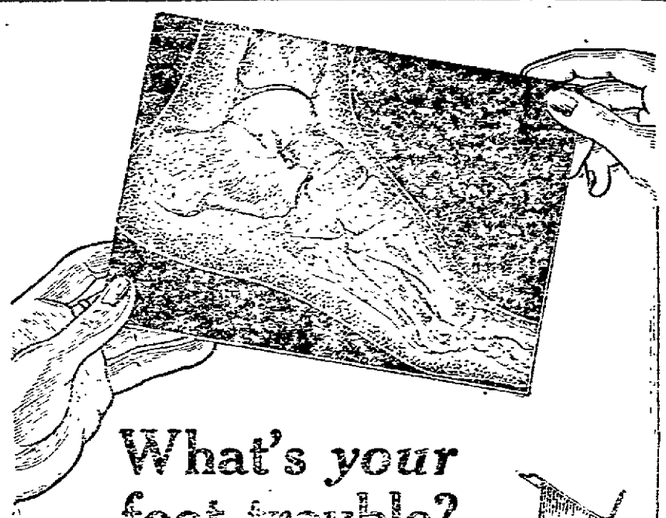
Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its life, its strength and its very color; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair fairly jumps out!

A little Danderine tonight, now, any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that soft lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.



What's your foot trouble?

Nearly all foot troubles, such as callouses, bunions, broken-down arch, run-over heel etc., are due to some bone of the foot being out of normal position.

In fact, often pains in ankle, calf or small of back, thought due to other causes, are really due to foot trouble. No remedy will give permanent results that does not restore the bone or bones that causes the trouble, back to normal position.

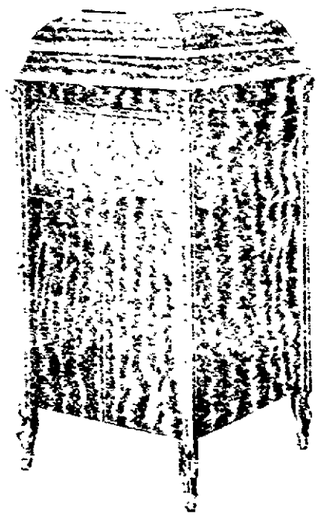
Opportunity Extraordinary



STRADIVARA
"KNOWN FOR TONE"

On Friday evening at the Pastime theatre the people of Coshocton will have a long-desired opportunity to actually prove to their own satisfaction the absolute and perfect naturalness of the tone of the Stradivara Phonograph.

A TONE COMPARISON

Mrs. Harry Hawkins, coloratura soprano, will sing with the Stradivara—and so wonderful is the effect, so astounding the natural reproduction, that it is practically impossible to distinguish between the rich silvery tones from the living singer's throat and the reproduction of those tones in the marvelous patented sound board tone chamber of the Stradivara.

You cannot afford to miss this interesting and instructive entertainment. It will be a genuine revelation to you.

A COSHOCTON PRODUCT

It is a matter of considerable civic pride that such a splendid and kingly instrument is built right here in our own little city. It is gratifying to the people of Coshocton to know that the Stradivara has already taken its place as

"ONE OF THE FOUR REALLY GREAT PHONOGRAPHS."

Only last week a large Chicago dealer for one of the very largest phonograph companies in the U. S. said: "I honestly consider the Stradivara the most wonderful sound producing machine on the market today."

Think of it—people of Coshocton—think of a statement like that coming from a competitor, unsolicited, of course, and of course made without the realization that it would reach our ears.

COME TO THE PASTIME

Friday evening and satisfy your own most critical judgment that the Stradivara can really lay claim to be the World's Greatest Phonograph!

LET US REDEEM OHIO!

GRAVE matters are at issue in the approaching election. The prevalence and nearness of war and the stress of conditions it creates, makes this a time in national affairs fraught with danger and big in consequence. There are, however, in Ohio, definite issues which demand attention.

The business which does not advance moves backward. The business which entrusts its affairs to those who deal lightly with the truth faces disaster. The government of Ohio is a big business. It is the biggest business in the State. Its conduct requires ability, vision and human treatment. It needs first of all, honesty.

The importance of Ohio government has been growing constantly. In the last ten years, except two, its progress has been marked. During the last two years there has been reaction. Of the contrast here presented and of the possibilities of danger in the future there should be earnest consideration.

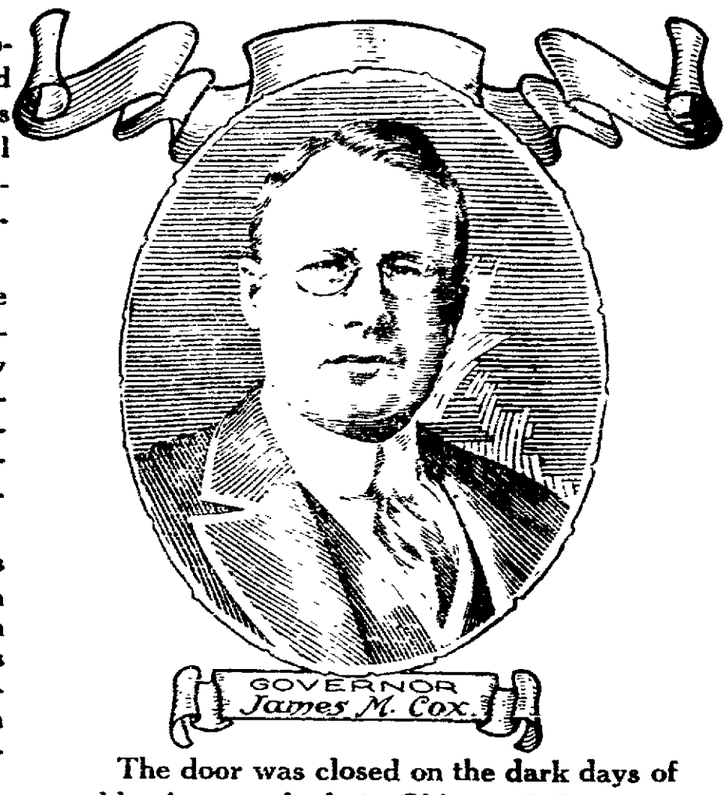
This is a plain business proposition. Let us reason it out together.

THE advancing movement in Ohio, already under way, gained new impetus in 1912 with the adoption of the new constitution, fitted to new needs. The thought of social justice and human development stood over all. James M. Cox, who supported the amendments, was chosen Governor to enact and administer laws to put the amendments into effect. This he did. He enacted other progressive laws that assisted in the efficient conduct of State government and carried all the benefits of a progressive State to all the people.

Under the Cox administration came the Compulsory Workmen's Compensation Law which was so efficiently administered that in two years it had gained the support not only of employes, but of employers as well. Under this administration all destructive attempts against the law were successfully resisted and overcome.

A modern educational system was established which gave to the boys and girls of the farm the opportunities they deserved.

There was written the Mothers' Pension Law, with the absolute guarantee to every mother in Ohio that no matter what circumstances may befall her in the tender youth of her children, she will not come to poverty nor will her little ones be separated from her.



The door was closed on the dark days of old prison methods in Ohio, and there was purchased the New Penitentiary Farm, on which there has not been a single activity for two years.

There was given the first Budget Financial System adopted by any State in America.

Eleven Agricultural Bills for the promotion of farm life were written into law and efficiently and economically administered.

A Modern Highway System built on cooperation between county, state and federal government was established.

THERE came also under the Cox administration the reform of the jury system; the simplification of judicial procedure; the half holiday at election time; the law for at least two pay days a month; the standard caboose law; the purchase of life saving equipment for mines; the survey for occupational diseases; the bill providing for removal of officials; the primary election; the home rule for cities; the civil service law; the initiative and referendum; strengthening of the public utilities law; a law to protect innocent investors from fraudulent speculators; an act purifying elections; the law providing defense against tuberculosis; and the liquor license law, under constitutional mandate, which regulates the traffic.

THE efficient and benevolent plan for the care of the State's unfortunates under the Board of Administration was continued free from the hand of the spoilsman, with sympathetic treatment from the executive and legislative departments. Every thought was given to helpful human activity.

TWO years ago appeal was made by misrepresentation of facts and the holding out of promises which were not meant to be kept. Candidate Willis said there was a deficit in the State Treasury of $4,800,000. As Governor he receipted for $11,670,491.30 in cash. With his "Little Red Book" he made charge of useless offices and commissions created by Governor Cox, when most of them had come into affairs before Cox was elected. He said he would restore the outside offices to the State House, and he has purchased an 11-story office building not large enough for all the offices, and paid for it with interest on the cash he said was not in the Treasury. He promised elimination of offices, and increased the pay roll for officers $575,000 yearly. He promised increase under the Compensation Law which he has not given, but he has by inattention and reaction lent assistance to those who would destroy the law. Willis condemned an alleged political machine and as Governor proceeded by spoils distribution to build up a machine of his own unequalled in the history of State politics. He promised economy in State government, and in his first fiscal year expended $19,695,902.33, which was a million and a quarter more than was spent in any year preceeding him, and which was $519,801.89 more than the receipts from all sources. (Auditor of State's Report.) He stood over the State Treasury with $11,670,491.30 in it, and on June 30, 1916, had reduced this surplus to $6,870,423.92. (Auditor of State's Report.) He pledged the election of assessors, and then passed a law which gave to boards of revision arbitrary powers, under which taxes were raised without reason and without notice. His decentralization of the license law, with effort to evade his own responsibility for law enforcement, was rejected by 112,000 votes.

Efficiency has given way to politics. Ohio's only advance has been in the cost of government.

With this demonstration does it not appeal to you that Ohio deserves better treatment and that it is about time to again begin the forward move?

Once to every man and nation comes a moment to decide—
In the strife 'twixt truth and falsehood, on the good or evil side.
—LOWELL.

THE Cox administration has now been in review long enough to be known and understood. Its progress is in comparison with the reaction of its successor.

The people of Ohio have a right to expect real service. Let us consider what we will gain by again electing James M. Cox to administer our State government.

Governor Cox is pledged to protection and preservation of the Compulsory Workmen's Compensation Law which he had enacted, and which he did protect while Governor.

The Democratic platform pledges the Democratic legislature when elected to repeal of the arbitrary features of the present taxation law, and the continuation of the right of local subdivisions to elect their own assessors.

There is promised the enactment of laws that will continue the far seeing policy of good roads development which will enable the State to secure the fullest benefits afforded by national legislation and national appropriations.

As the creator of the school code, which will be his lasting monument, Governor Cox may be depended upon to perfect that law wherever it may need change, and to continue Ohio in the front rank of the sisterhood of states in educational matters.

The day of Governor Cox's inauguration will see activities renewed on the New Penitentiary Farm, and an honest effort made to do something for the 1800 men now confined in the idle house at the penitentiary, where recently was enacted the tragedy of spoils.

The State's resources will be conserved, and proper attention to the canals and reservoirs constituting the public park system will be continued by Governor Cox as it was begun under his former administration.

The dark shadow of the spoilsman will be removed from the Board of Administration, and the blind, the insane, the helpless and the deficient will be given human care by human hands.

A policy will be adopted toward the wards of the State and their welfare, with sufficient appropriations, which will provide those things for which there is now urgent need.

GOVERNOR COX is a natural executive. He is a business success and a leader. He stands square on all things. When he gives a pledge he keeps it. He takes the Governorship of the State of Ohio as a serious matter and will never permit it to become a joke. He will take the laws as he finds them and enforce them to the letter. He will see that they are changed where he has given his pledge so to do, and otherwise act where needs develop.

The election of Governor Cox means restoration of honesty, efficiency, humanity and progress in the Government of Ohio. When the people again choose him they may once more lift their heads in pride, knowing full well that Ohio will rank first among all the States in the Union.

AT the forthcoming election the voters will choose between the progress of Governor Cox, and the reaction and lack of vision of Governor Willis. Their ability to serve the people and their records of service are the issues. The decision is up to all of those of us who have to live and do business in the State. We will redeem Ohio.

Food Problem Is Discussed

BERLIN, OCT. 31.—(Via London, OCT. 1.)—A food conference was held at the chancellor's palace today at which Emperor William and the chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, were present, as well as the secretaries of state and heads of all departments and representatives of important organizations thruout the empire which are directly or even indirectly interested in the subject. The conference continued for nearly two hours, during which the emperor conferred personally with each of those present.

A long list of the participants in the conference includes Adolph Batocki, president of the food regulation board; Dr. Alfred Lohmann, president of the board of directors of the German Ocean Navigation Company, who developed the merchant submarines Deutschland and Bremen. Dr. Karl Helfferich, secretary of the interior, and his assistants; the imperial commissary for transition from war to peace and his staff; the Bavarian minister; the directorate of the German consumptions association; the general secretary of the Christian labor unions; the directors of the imperial grain, feed, potato, meat and fat bureaus; the chief of the largest insurance companies in Germany, and business men from every part of the empire.

LEGAL NOTICE

In the court of common pleas of Coshocton County, Ohio. The Home Building Loan & Savings Co., plaintiff, vs. John S. McClurg, Anna B. McClurg, C. W. Miller and L. D. Rainter, Hamilton Browning and William Wagoner, partners, under the firm name of Browning & Wagoner, and C. L. Fleming, defendants.

John S. McClurg and Anna B. McClurg, whose present place of residence is unknown, but whose last Post Office address was at the Hotel Algonquin, 44th Street, New York City, will take notice that on the 2nd day of October, A. D. 1916, The Home Building Loan and Savings Company, as Plaintiff, commenced an action in the Court of Common Pleas of Coshocton County, Ohio, against said John S. McClurg, Anna B. McClurg, et al as defendants, therein praying for the foreclosure of a certain mortgage given by said John S. McClurg and Anna B. McClurg to said The Home Building, Loan & Savings Company on April 14th, 1916, securing the payment of a certain note of that date, calling for the sum of Thirty-Five Hundred Dollars ($3500.), with interest from said date at the rate of six (6%) per cent per annum, said Mortgage being on the following real estate, to-wit:

Situated in the County of Coshocton in the state of Ohio, and in the City of Coshocton, and bounded and described as fololws:

Being all that part of out Lot Numbered one hundred and sixty-seven (167) within the following boundaries, as the said out Lot is marked and delineated on the recorded plat of said City of Coshocton, in Coshocton County Plat Records.

Beginning at a point on the east line of Cambridge Street, one hundred (100) feet east of the intersection of said East line of Cambridge Street, with the east or south line of Twelfth Street; thence southerly along the east line of Cambridge Street, fifty (50) feet; thence northeasterly at right angles to Cambridge Street ninety (90) feet; thence northwesterly and parallel to Cambridge Street Fifty (50) feet; thence southwesterly ninety (90) feet to the place of beginning, and containing 0.102 of an acre. Saving, excepting and reserving a right of way, 9 feet in width along the west side of the tract herein convered for the use of the occupants of a tract 50x60 feet, heretofore conveyed to Mary E. Barcroft, as recorded in Coshocton County Deed Records, for all reasonable and necessary purposes of ingress and egress from said premises.

The prayer of said petition asks judgment against said defendants John S. McClurg and Anna B. McClurg in the sum of Thirty-five hundred and forty-five dollars and 50-100 ($3545.50) with interest from July 1st, 1916, for foreclosure of mortgage and marshalling of liens.

Said John S. McClurg and Anna B. McClurg are required to answer on or before the 20th day of December, A. D. 1916, or judgment will be taken against them.

No Sentiment.

Father—"You say Mildred's wedding will cost two thousand dollars? Now, why not have a simple wedding and give them this money to start their married life with?" Mother—"How can you talk that way. I can forgive almost anything but the fact that you have no sentiment."—Life.

Patience.

Patience is the courage of the conqueror, the strength of man against destiny—of the one against the world, and of the soul against matter.—Therefore it is the courage of the gospel; and its importance, in a social view, and to races and institutions, cannot be too earnestly inculcated.—Bulwer.

Paradox.

No word upon the lips of humanity would be more true today than the paradox "what I gave I have," for the creative force grows in proportion as it is generously expended and, with life itself, dwindles as it is eked out and repressed.

Star Chamber

while the council was discussing Atho Attorney Merrell, City Solicitor

City Attorney Mr Sutor, all had stated they had no objection to the presence of the representative during the session. Councilman F W Heinke declared that he believed the conference should be secret

Councilman McKinley, who lined up with the gas company against the small consumer at council's meeting on October 23, at once seconded his motion and others then agreed that the representative be excluded.

Councilman Heinke and others advanced that the only objection to a published account of the meeting would be the information conveyed to the gas company. Councilman Heinke may or may not have known that a supporter of the gas company had in his possession Tuesday, part of the evidence which was to be introduced at the meeting last night. He perhaps did not know that it is reported that the same supporter of the gas company and its manager had a conference on the day previous.

As the secret session of council last night was not a regular one nor a called meeting, the absence of President Marrion prohibited any action as a body It did, however, put six councilmen in possession of the city's defense against the proposed rate One of the six in open council advised that the city's injunction be withdrawn and the gas company allowed to collect the 30 cent rate, before the city's attorneys should be given an opportunity to give information on the true status of affairs and the justice of the city's stand

When council meets again, a week after the election, action will probably be taken. The public, it appears, will never know just what evidence our attorneys had gathered, for if it should be disclosed at that meeting the gas company might secure it.

That meeting is to be held on November 13, an unlucky day. If council decides to withdraw the injunction suit, it was stated Wednesday, prompt action on the part of the citizens will follow

Attorney Merrell was advised Wednesday that one petition had already been circulated and 500 names affixed to the request that council stand pat. The same informant told Mr Merrell that 10,000 more could be easily secured. This number is sufficient to secure a referendum on the subject, and it is more than probable that should council attempt to dismiss the injunction this step will be taken by the citizens.

At the meeting last night evidence was presented by Mr Sutor showing that in other cities the large consumers pay a greater proportion of their fuel bill than is proposed here In Zanesville where small consumers are taxed 30 cents for gas, consumers using 1,000,000 feet of gas per month are taxed 19 cents and allowed a rebate of 1 cent per thousand feet Under the new rate the Coshocton Gas Company would tax the small consumer 30 cents and allow any consumer using 1,000,000 feet a rate of 15 cents.

In East Liverpool, according to recent dispatches, the rate for commercial gas was advanced 1 cent per hundred cubic feet. No mention was made of any advance for domestic purposes. The Columbus council also recently passed an ordinance lowering the rate from 30 to 25 cents for that city

The Coshocton Gas Company's feeder the Buckeye State Oil and Gas Company, supplies gas to Frazeysburg, Trinway and other villages to the south west, but so far have not charged 30 cents An attempt was made to charge the new rate at Warsaw, but this was done under the franchise which permits the same rate as in this city

Jay Hope Sutor, according to his statement, was not allowed to see what rate local manufacturing firms are now charged. He was given the total amount paid by Coshocton consumers and forced to be content.

Brought Big Money.

Corn raised from seed found among Aztec curios in New Mexico sold at the rate of $1,250,000 a carload in Kansas. However, only 100 grains were sold, but at the rate paid—two cents a grain—a carload lot would cost a million and one-quarter dollars. The corn is not unlike the "calico" corn grown in many parts of the country.

Imitative Monkeys.

It is interesting to learn from experiments on monkeys at a zoo that they, unlike dogs, cats, chickens and rats, but like human beings, do seem to be able to profit by observing one another's behavior. In a number of cases one monkey would pull out a plug or tug at a string after he had seen a companion get food in this way, but not before.

How It Looked to Her.

Grandma was making her first visit to the city. She loved music and was enjoying the popular musical play of the season. Watching the graceful couple in a daring waltz, she whispered to her hostess: "That'll be a match all right."

COURT HOUSE NEWS

Mrs. Al Sadie Leindecker, of Coshocton, was adjudged insane in probate court Wednesday and committed to the Massillon state hospital for the insane. Mrs. Leindecker was formerly an inmate of the institution but, her condition having improved, she was discharged a few months ago.

Marriage Permit Issued.

A marriage permit was issued Wednesday to Harry M. Williamson, 28, clerk, of Blissfield, and Fern Mowery, 28, Warsaw, daughter of Holly Mowery Rev. C. P Barnes named to officiate.

Defense Wins Judgment.

Judgment for the defendant was rendered in Justice E. G. Abbott's court in the case of John Baroni vs. The Crossan Construction Company to collect $52 alleged to be due for wages. Attorney Levi Williams represented the plaintiff and Attorney Bert Voorhees the defendant.

Chilly At Courthouse.

Courthouse officials and other occupants of business offices in the downtown district shivered Wednesday while the city heat was turned off in order to permit the Ohio Service Company to make repairs on its hot water mains.

Food Prices May Yet Jump

COLUMBUS, O., NOV. 1.—Raising of prices in order to meet the exigencies of the present exorbitant increases, will receive serious discussion at the meeting of the Ohio Hotel Men's association at its annual meeting in Columbus December 13 and 14, according to local hotelmen.

Miss Edna N. White, head of the department of home economics of Ohio State university, is to be invited to speak before the association on food problems caused by the high prices.

AN OMISSION.

The names of Minnie Brown and Myron Cohen were unintentionally omitted from the list of prize winners in the Halloween carnival, in Wednesday morning's issue of The Tribune. The children were dressed as king and queen, and won a three dollar prize.

Why She Mourned.

He (anxiously, after popping the question)—"Why do you cry, my love? Did I offend you by my proposal?" She (quietly sobbing)—"Oh, no dear. Mamma always said to me, 'Lill, you are such an idiot, that you would not get even a donkey for a lover, and now I have got one, after all.'"

Much Need for It.

The people of India reverence the tree called Ficus Religiosa, or the Peepul tree, because they say you can never tell a lie beneath it. For this reason they always put it in places remote from where they sell anything. What a splendid thing it would be if it could be planted throughout our cities.—Selected.

Evidence of Eyewitness.

A small boy recently attended the theater. In the play a false servant stole a valuable ring. The master in anger called the servants before him and attempted to gain a confession. "Who stole the ring?" he thundered. Then and there the little fellow, who had been deeply engrossed, called out: "The man with the red stockings."

Your Child.

It is almost as important to teach your child to be cheerful as it is to teach him to breath deep and to brush his teeth daily. Being cheerful aids digestion, quickens the circulation, in fact gives tone and vigor to the entire body. The cheerful child rarely complains of minor ailments.

CASSIUS M. RICHARD

Republican Candidate for

CLERK OF THE COURT

For twenty one years I have conducted the News Stand corner Main and Fifth streets, Coshocton. In that period of time I have met and dealt with almost every voter in the county. I have conducted my business with success and found great pleasure in my efforts to please my friends and patrons. I have turned my spare time to good account to the end that I have acquired the equivalent of a college education. I am especially qualified to fill the office of Clerk of the Court to which I aspire. I most earnestly solicit your vote and influence.

Respectfully your servant,
CASSIUS M. RICHARD.
